

The background of the poster features a large, bright yellow circle representing a full moon. The sky is a gradient of orange and yellow. There are several dark purple clouds, some at the top and some at the bottom. Bats are flying in the sky. In the bottom right corner, there is a silhouette of a haunted house with yellow windows. The text is arranged in a clear, hierarchical manner, with the event name in large, bold letters and the date and time in a separate section at the bottom.
